

TYPES OF MASSAGE IN THE OFFER

1. Relax massage is the most commonly used type of massage. The therapist, with the help of oil or massage lotions, massages the surface muscle compounds with long smooth and circular movements.
2. Sports massage is intended for athletes and persons who are actively engaged in sports, because its basic function is not relaxation, but prevention of injuries and increase of sporting possibilities.
3. Royal massage or so-called massage in 4 hands refers to the simultaneous massage of two therapists, one of which creates movements and the other one monitors it.
4. The Hawaiian massage achieves absolute relaxation and harmony of the spirit and body, so it is ideal for those who are under stress every day!

5. Therapeutic is a massage we work for the purpose of treatment. Our body creates fibrous tissue in the muscles in response to poor psychophysical influences and as a defense of the same.

6. Thai massage is performed on the floor, on the mattress and lasts 60-120 minutes. There are two variants of Thai massage, plain and oil massage.

7. Antistress It represents a combination of therapeutic and relaxing massages.
8. Combined massage, the client himself determines the amount of pressure during the massage between the sparcke therapeutic and relax
